

This questionnaire is for a series on the YourNaturalHair.Com health and beauty blog at (www.yournaturalhair.com). The series features women (and men) who are participants in the natural hair world, who are self-described product junkies. "I'm a Product Junky – This is My Story!" is meant to be light and funny, as it deals with a subject matter that we all laugh about, while we sneak when our men aren't looking and buy even MORE stuff!

Here are the questions I'd like you to answer if you can.

- 1) How long have you been natural and what made you decide to switch over?

- 2) How do you define yourself as a "product junkie?"...what does being a product junkie mean to you?

- 3) Were you a "product junkie?" before you went natural, or is this a new habit you developed with the change in hairstyle?

- 4) What is the most you've ever spent in a month on feeding your "product junkie" habit?

- 5) What is it about a new product or having lots of products to choose from that find so rewarding? What is it about purchasing or trying products that excites you?

- 6) Does your mate or anyone in your family take issue with your "product junkie" habit, and what is it that they do or say?

- 7) What do you do, and how do you feel when you are excited about getting and trying a new product, only to be disappointed in how it performs?

8) Do you think that your inner “product junkie” is indicative of an addiction to new hair products?

9) When you look at your stash of products, do you get a rush or do you feel ashamed? If there were a Product Junkie 12 Step Program would you enroll? (smile) Why or why not?

10) Do you find value in using the Hair Typing chart (3b, 4c, etc) when it comes to selecting products that you think will work on your hair?

11) As you traveled on your natural hair journey, what would be the top 1-3 pieces of advice you’d share with others?

12) What do you enjoy most about your natural hair?

Please add anything else that you think would be of interest to readership about your natural hair journey and your attraction to hair products, or that would make the article more fun to read.
